3.1 Consultancy

Nishat Construction provide quality consultancy & supervision service.

3.2 Building Design

We listen to the needs of our clients and try to imagine what they are dreaming. Our design teams and structural engineers choose design philosophy based on based on purpose of the space, design and code requirements.

We believe in code compliance and efficient design of buildings. We take integrative design approach by combining architectural design, structural design, electrical design, plumbing & sanitary design and building information model. Our designers use advanced analysis and research while prioritizing the use of the building.

3.3 Architectural Design

We take bottom-up approach in building design. Our layouts are based on possible practical use of space by end user considering cultural habits and traditions. We understand the need of beauty without compromising the practical need from concept development to budgeting, client engagement is ensured all the way to ensure client's goals are best served. Our design takes into consideration practical constraints, cultural beliefs of the client, topography of the area etc.

3.4 3d Visualization

We produce 3d rendered views of the structures to help client visualize his/her project. Our renders are able to give real life like feeling of the projects and aid client in deciding. From landscape to interior we are capable of producing quality views with real life like materials, colors and light.

3.5 Interior Design

Part of our bottom-up approach we are passionate about interior design. We listen to our clients demand and design space to serve the practical need and look aesthetically pleasing. Our designs add value to your space. We follow various design themes while considering modern trends.

We work with latest building automation technologies to make your place. We have vastly experienced technicians and skilled labors who has worked on several important projects and able to make your home/office stand out from the rest.

3.6 Structural Design

We don't compromise with safety. Our designs are compliant with building codes applicable for respective regions. We don't just sell safety, we mean it. From the recent studies published in the world-renowned journal "Nature", it is likely that Bangladesh is in severe danger of major earthquakes. From various studies done by UNDP, RAJUK, etc. we know that many buildings in Bangladesh are not code-compliant and are in danger of collapse in an event of a major.

Earthquake. Our designs put focus on details to increase the ductility of the structure to withstand earthquake-induced motions each and every part of our designs is hand-checked to avoid software glitches.

3.7 Foundation design

Foundation play vital role in ensuring structural stability of buildings. We design foundation considering strength and settlement requirements of Bangladesh National Building Code. From shallow footings to pile foundation we are capable to design every type of foundation while ensuring highest safety standards.

We only design buildings with authentic soil test report. We prefer to re-analyze soil test report findings to ensure that no compromise has been made.

In recent years many disasters have taken place due to foundation failure. Without proper design these accidents are bound to happen.

3.8 Safety/Compliance Requirements

We follow the latest fire safety, electrical safety requirements in our building designs. We cover fire separation, fire detection and protection designs, electrical system designs. Where required we follow code requirements of building codes.

3.8.1 Fire Detection/Protection System Design

We are able to produce fire detection and protection system designs. Our designs are not only code compliant but also based on practical considerations to make the system effective and less prone to false alarms.

3.9 Electrical Design

The fundamental objective of the building design is to provide a safe, comfortable, energy efficient and attractive environment for working. The electrical design must satisfy these criteria if it is to be successful. Today's buildings, because of their increasing size and complexity, have become more and more dependent upon adequate and reliable electrical systems. The principal design elements, which must be considered in the design of the power, lighting and auxiliary systems include.

- Magnitudes, Characteristics, demand, and coincidence or diversity of loads & load factors.
- Service, distribution, and utilization voltages, and voltage regulation.
- Flexibility and provisions for expansion.
- Safety of personnel and property.
- Initial and maintenance cost.
- Operation and Maintenance.
- Fault current and system co-ordination.
- Power sources.
- Distribution systems.
- Standby and emergency power.
- Energy conservation and demand and energy control.

3.10 Plumbing Design

The plumbing design is initiated on the basis of the occupancy load of the building as well as overall plan layout of the building. Adequate provision is incorporated during development of architectural plan layout of the building to cope up with the occupancy loads. Sufficient nos. of fixtures shall be provided in order to handle the maximum load at peak hours. The selection of fixtures shall be done considering the suitability of the same for the sick and disable persons.

3.11 Engineering Surveys

We help architects and building construction teams ensure that the projects progress according to their designs, structures are built within given tolerances and comply with the quality standards and building regulations.
